Board Of Trade In Regular Meeting

The Board of Trade meeting Monday night was not very largely attended, but an interesting meeting was held. The financial statement of the Stampede was presented and showed a profit to be used for war work, but the heavy expenses cut down the surplus, and it was the opinion of the meeting that expenses would have to be watched closely in future Stampedes or we would be finding ourselves in financial difficulties. Mr. Gilmour, Stampede Secretary was given a sincere vote of thanks for his work in taking care of the funds and preparing the financial statement.

Roads were discussed and the Municipal Council commended for the fine road built this summer from Raymond to Craddock, and which is now being gravelled. The question of a large sign at the junction with the Sunshine Trail was discussed, and the Executive and the Road Chairman was asked to fully investigate this matter and were given power to act.

The question of stopping at the Welling Junction before pulling onto the Lethbridge road was raised, as some had been fined for not coming to a stop at this point. O. H. Snow, Secretary of the Municipality of Sugar City volunteered to get a definite ruling from Police officials on this matter, and if stopping was necessary he would see that the necessary signs were erected there under the direction of the Municipality.

Buy your poppies in Raymond from the Boy Scouts who are assisting the Legion in this movement. Poppies will be on sale Saturday, November 8th.

President Roosevelt's speech on navy day, and his statement of the map and secret document he has should cause even isolationists some serious thinking.

WHAT DO YOU READ?

We should like to call attention to our new "CLUBBING OFFER" and invite all our readers to study it. We believe that it is really worthwhile, and will give you a nice selection of winter reading at a price that everyone can afford to pay. Every good home should have a good home town paper, The Recorder.

We should like to point out too, that if you are at present taking any of the magazines listed, your subscription WILL BE EXTENDED one year regardless of when it expires. Some have labored under the impression that this could not be done and if the offer was taken it meant additional magazines. This is not the case. If any of the listed periodicals are at present on your reading list, you can renew that subscription through this clubbing offer, at less than you will otherwise pay, and your receiving of your papers and magazines will not be in the least interrupted.

Our partners in this offer, are in close touch with the publishing business across the Dominion, and they have arranged what we think is one of the finest Clubbing Offers we have ever had, and again we invite you to read it through and see if it won't fit into your reading program, and at the same time save you money. And too, will you tell your friends about it? Thank You.

Quarterly Conference Nov. 29 And 30

At the Stake Priesthood meeting Sunday, the Stake Presidency announced that the regular Quarterly Conference would be held Saturday evening and Sunday November 29 and 30.

At the meeting Mrs. A. R. Briggs, and Elders M. Elmer Ririe and I. B. Roberts reported on the recent Church Conference in Salt Lake City and expressed their appreciation at being able to attend and the inspiration and assistance they obtained from the meetings.

Preparing for the winter's work, some changes were made in the Stake Board of the Y.M. M.I.A. when Stanley Jones and A. F. Bullock were released, the former because he has moved away, and the latter because of other Church duties, and E. E. Jensen was sustained as Stake drama-leader on the Board. A Male quartette from Magrath sang "Let the Lower Lights be Burning," and the Ladies Music Club of Raymond sang "Lead Kindly Light."

How is your winter reading program? You should investigate our Clubbing Offer. We have really worthwhile bargains that will save you money. Canada's leading magazines and farm papers at a real savings. Come in and see.

Miss Thora Garner, a bride to be, was guest of honor at a shower Thursday night. She received a lovely lot of gifts from her many friends, and with them we wish her much success in her married life. The happy event we understand is to take place November 13th.

Rotary Hears About Roads

The Rotary meeting Monday was featured by a talk by City Manager J. T. Watson of Lethbridge, who was guest speaker and gave the members present some first hand information regarding road surfacing and building. As special guests of the meeting were members of the Town Council who were interested listeners.

Frank R. Taylor, Chairman of the Community Service Committee introduced the speaker and also the subject, and rehearsed what had been done so far toward outlining a workable plan for the improvement of our main street.

Mr. Watson commended the Committee for the fine plan they had drawn and said the lay out would make a very good street and a big improvement. In the past two years Lethbridge had hard-surfaced nearly fifteen miles of roads and in 1942 expected to spend about $30,000 in enlarging this program. Their best success, and the type of surfacing they were using now and expected to continue to use, was a "plant mix" of washed gravel, sand and asphalt mixture known as MC4. They had tried blotter treatment on their streets, but this, while cheaper did not hold up, and in the end was far more expensive than the "plant mix." Cement had been discarded as it was too expensive, too hard to lay, and when repairs were needed it was almost impossible to get a really good union in the old and new cement. The "plant mix" according to Mr. Watson was easy to lay, easy to repair and needed no repair if it were well laid. Fourth Avenue, where they had put their first "plant mix" street had been in use for six years with heavy traffic and had required no repairs whatever. He spoke of costs, and stated that with better mixing facilities, they were now laying this type of surfacing on a 64 foot street at a cost of $4,700 per mile, and in comparison with $3,700 per mile for blotting, and the relative value of the two types of road, the "plant mix" was much the cheaper of the two.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker for his informative talk. After a great many questions, the meeting adjourned, and then with some of those present, Mr. Watson went over the street and gave practical advice with respect to what might be done. One cheering bit of information was the fact that our present sidewalks which varies from eight to ten feet in width, could be washed clean, and a three inch layer of plant mix spread on top of it, and we would have a sidewalk that would be as good as new. There were several advantages in plant mix over cement, it was not as tiring to walk on, was elastic enough to take the changes in weather, it was easy to lay and would last indefinitely. He also stated that a base of gravel and rock on the easy side of the street, covered with plant mix would give a good sidewalk there at a small fraction of the cost of a cement walk. He gave it as his opinion that Broadway could be surfaced without fear of damage from seepage water provided the water was turned some other direction at the Town Hall corner and the surfacing kept good and tight, so that the curbs would take the drainage off the surfaced portion.

Committee members, members of the Council and everyone felt that in view of the information Mr. Watson gave and gutters was not out of reach for next year, and that plans the sidewalks, boulevards and should be laid now to get it done as weather and other conditions would permit.

Mrs. Parley Meldrum Passes Away

People of Raymond were all greatly shocked this morning to hear of the passing in the Hospital at 5:30 a. m. of Mrs. W. Parley Meldrum, from causes following childbirth. The baby is doing fine. Members of the family were present when the end came.

Mist Meldrum was the mother of three children, a boy about sixteen and two younger girls. Her father, James Hawkins, who is in very poor health, and a number of brothers and sisters are also left to mourn her passing.

Deceased was a woman who was always active in church work and was a wonderful wife and mother, and with her husband and children and many friends we mourn her unexpected passing and extend our deepest sympathy to the sorrowing relatives. Funeral services are not complete but will likely be on Sunday.

War Situation Looks Better For Russia

RED CROSS NEEDS MORE BLANKETS

When the Nazi aerial blitz strikes a British city, the most welcome relief to bombing sufferers is the bales of blankets and quilts sent by the Canadian people, according to advices received from the overseas branch of the Canadian Red Cross.

Since the Red Cross Society's last appeal for these useful articles, 138,137 blankets and 101,234 quilts have been distributed to bombing victims, military hospitals and for the relief of distressed merchant seamen.

That supply is now exhausted, Red Cross officials announce and there is an urgent need to replenish stocks so that hardship among the bombed out people of Britain may be kept to a minimum during the long winter months.

British relief authorities are loud in their praise of the Canadian people for their splendid support of the last appeal for these vital necessities, and stress the fact that the blankets and quilts have been the means of saving many lives.

Blankets must be woollen and new or as "good as new." Those unable to provide blankets or new quilts may aid the appeal by contributing $2 for the purchase of a single blanket.

Contributors are asked to get in touch with their provincial or local branch headquarters of the Red Cross for directions as to where the blankets, quilts and donations may be sent.

NEWS NOTES

Lethbridge is having a black-out and a mock air raid Saturday night. It is expected that many will be attracted to the business section of the city for the demonstration.

The Sugar Factory has had three motors burn out on the beet cutters within the past few days. A short circuit seems to be grounding the motors and causing them to burn out with no warning at all. They just simply go, and that's that.

A box for refuse on the corner by the Broadway Store is very imposing and should add much in keeping the street clear of paper. We congratulate those whose advertising is paying for the box and hope the public will use it and assist in keeping a clean street.

A high wind Tuesday, with snow most of the day, made us think we were going to get snowed in. However, skies cleared during the night, and Wednesday morning it was clear but real nippy. Weather seems to be settled again now. About 92 p.c. of the beets were in before the storm came.

After spending the past year or so here attending school and working, Donald McLean, brother of Mrs. Leonard Watson, left Friday morning for his home in Ranier, Alta., where his parents Mr. and Mrs. Oliver McLean reside, and will attend High School this winter in the town of Bassano, Alta. Don will be missed here especially in the band, where his ability on cornet and trombone made him a real asset.

Definite improvement in the chances of Russia to stave off the onslaught of Nazi hordes seems to be shown in the past few days. Reports if we can even partly believe them, seem to indicate that the German advance on Moscow has been stopped, and that in many sections, the Russian attacks have been so insistent and so severe that the Nazis have been forced to go on the defensive, which would be something new for German units.

The weather man has taken a hand in the game, and with snow and cold weather his dealing has definitely been for the benefit of the Red forces. Fighting is still going on, and new sectors have been opened up, but the advance of the Nazi hordes in the general direction of Moscow has been stopped and the defence of Moscow has remained unbroken and is being strengthened hourly. It seems as if Hitler's plans had gone awry and that while he may hold what he has gained, his communications are badly scattered for spending the winter in present locations. What will the bloody-handed war lord do?

On a man whose gospel is invincibility stoop to retreat, to recasting of his plans, or worse still to abandonment of purpose or will he continue to sacrifice not only his own men but hundreds of thousands of the soldiers of his vassal states, in an effort to bring Russia to her knees and complete that part of his all out effort.

As time goes on the strength of the Allies on land, on sea and in the air is growing. Their forces are increasing in number, their supplies are increasing hourly, and because of better organization, the output of essential products is increasing. The end is a long way off, every one knows, but in view of the tremendous loss of men and equipment in the Russian campaign, because of the spirit of unrest in occupied countries, because of the growing shortage of good and sufficient nourishing food in Europe, and most likely because Hitler seeks to oust God and religion from his new order, and to exalt himself to unheard of glory, we have that and still think that he has written finish by his own plans to his future, and that the climax has already started. It is our sworn duty and obligation to see that finish is written surely and for all time to such blood, carnage and suffering as the world is experiencing now.

Misses Mac West, Leatrice Seville, Mildred Boyson and Beth Johnson spent Thanksgiving week-end in Regina attending an Alpha Iota Inter-attending Honorary Business Sorority Conclave, at which girls from Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina and Calgary met. Fraternity boys from Saskatoon and Winnipeg were also there. On Saturday evening a banquet was held in the Blue Room of Hotel Saskatchewan. Following that, the R.C.M. Police escorted the sorority girls to the "Carnival of Roses Dance." Sunday the girls were kept busy attending church, a dinner, a business meeting, tea and a fireside. Mrs. Mabel Y. Steele, Grand Historian, of Sioux City Iowa, was the guest of honor. The girls were guests at Hotel Saskatchewan.

OTHER PERSON'S

VIEWPOINTS

The German viewpoint is: When Nazi fliers bomb England that is war; when British fliers bomb Germany, that is murder. Following is a translation of an account in a Berlin newspaper of a British air raid: "If the English pilots could only see in the gray light of dawn the effect of their ruthless and indiscriminate bombings of Berlin's residential districts, they might possibly, if they have even a trace of human heart left in them, be overwhelmed by the horrors of the great crime they have committed."

How strikingly true is the Good Book, which says: Every way of a man is right in his own eyes; but the Lord pondereth the hearts." (Prov. 21:2.)

Have you noticed that: When the other fellow acts that way, he is ugly; when you do, it's nerves?

When the other fellow is set in his way, he's obstinate; when you are, it is just firmness?

When the other fellow doesn't like you, friends, he's prejudiced; when you don't like him, you're simply showing that you are a good judge of human nature.

When the other fellow tries to treat some one especially well he's toadying; when you try the same, you are using tact?

When the other fellow takes time to do things, he's slow; when you do it, you are deliberate?

When the other fellow spends a lot, he is a spendthrift; when you do, you are generous?

When the other fellow picks flaws in things, he's cranky; when you do, you are discriminating?

ating?

When the other fellow is mild in his language, he is a mush of concession; when you are, it is being gracious?

When the other fellow does extra well, he's a dunder; when you do, it is simply a duty owed to society?

When the other fellow runs great risks in business, he's a hardy; when you do, you are a great financier?

When the other fellow, what he thinks, he's spiteful; when you do, you are frank?

When the other fellow is caught in a new scheme, he's backwoodsy; when you are, you are conservative?

—Papyhus.

"Good morning, Mrs. Kelly," said the doctor, "did you tell your husband's temperature, as I told you?"

"Yes, doctor. I borrowed a barometer and placed it on his chest; is said 'very dry' so I bought him a pint of beer and he's gone back to work."

TELL YOUNG MEN TO ENLIST. HARVEY URGES EMPLOYERS

SAYS WOMEN SHOULD BE REPLACING THEM NOW

A blunt, straightforward request to Calgary employers of labor to advise men of army age and fitness in their employ to join the army and then replace them with women or older men, was made by Brigadier F.M.W. Harvey, V.C., M.C., officer commanding Military District 13, at a special luncheon meeting attended by 150 representative businessmen at the Palliser hotel at noon today.

With solidary directness, the district officer commanding appealed to businessmen to "take time by the forelock" and commence making changes in their business establishments now.

He said that while he was not predicting that conscription was just around the corner, he felt that employers of labor would do well to consider staff changes now so that they would be in a better position to deal with the situation if the need arose.

SERIOUS PICTURE

Before calling upon his hearers to do everything in their power to assist in the recruiting of men for Canada's army, the brigadier painted a serious word picture of the condition that the British Empire finds itself in after two years of war. He reminded those present of the bitter four-year struggle which took place before Britain and her allies succeeded in bringing the surrounded Germany of that time, to her knees.

He said that in those days, Germany was practically surrounded at the outset, but in the Second Great War the position has been drastically reversed and it is Britain and her allies now who are practically surrounded by a Germany-dominated Europe.

TOUGHER PROBLEM

"If it took us four years to beat Germany to her knees in the First Great War, how long is it going to take to defeat the Germany of the present war?" Brigadier Harvey asked.

Dealing with the general recruiting situation in Canada the brigadier said that attestations were falling far short of the 10,000 men a month required. Last week in the whole of Canada recruits received for the Canadian Army (Active) totalled only 1,553.

ONE WEEK'S SUPPLY

He predicted grave difficulties if the three Canadian divisions now overseas were suddenly called into action. Under the present rate of recruiting and the reinforcements available, the number of men at hand would constitute only about a week's supply.

He based his estimate on the terrific losses suffered in some of the major engagements of the last war, and he stated emphatically that there was no time to lose if the required number of men were to be secured.

HIGHLY SPECIALIZED

In 1914, it was only necessary to teach a recruit to march and handle a rifle, if he happened to be an infantryman, but under present conditions, a soldier is a highly technical person who must undergo months of special training.

For that reason alone, the Canadian army should be kept supplied with recruits so that they can be trained and in a position to take their place when the decisive moment comes.

The speaker said that during the past few weeks he had made a quiet personal survey of the persons employed in down-town stores and he was amazed at the large number of young & apparently fit men employed behind counters.

In support of his request that employers of labor should take immediate action in the matter of inducing their younger employees to get into the army, the brigadier said that they would have to face the situation quickly if some sort of selective service plan were suddenly adopted by the government.

"You'll have to do it anyway. He felt that there were many women and older men available to do it now," the brigadier said.

so why not take time by the fore for work now being carried out by young men of army age and fitness.

Brigadier Harvey traced the apparent lack of interest on the part of a section of the younger men of the country to the army conditions which prevailed before the war.

"While the Germans were filling the youth of Germany with blood and iron, we were filling the youth of our country with pop and ice cream," the speaker said.

Byron Vance spent the first part of the week here on business. He lives now at Rosemary, Alberta, and reports all the former Raymond people living there as feeling fine and being busy.

GREETING CARDS NOT TO BE ENCLOSED IN TOBACCO PARCELS

Personal Christmas, New Year's or other greeting cards should not be forwarded to tobacco companies, or be handed to the local agents of tobacco companies, by persons ordering parcels of cigarettes, tobacco or cigars to be sent to members of the Armed Forces Overseas, with the request that the greeting card be enclosed in the parcel.

A card bearing the name and address of the sender is now placed by the tobacco company in each parcel made up on order so that the recipient may send an acknowledgement to the sender, but it is not permissible under the conditions governing these special parcels to include personal Christmas or similar greeting cards therein.

Christmas, New Year's or other greeting cards should be mailed separately.

T. Geo. Wood, Manager of Canadian Sugar Factories, Ltd., left Lethbridge by T.C.A. plane Monday morning at 11:30 for Winnipeg, Man., on a business trip. The plane was one hour and a half late arriving in Lethbridge from the west, hence the late start.

Two alumni from the Lethbridge Flying School were in town Monday afternoon taking in the town. Both boys were from the northern part of Saskatchewan and they said this part of Alberta certainly looked good to them. We told them it certainly was a good part of the province too.

Karl Dahl won the pot-o-gold at the Capitol on Thursday evening, his guess being only 5 off the number which was 818.

Speakers at the 2nd Ward Sacrament meeting Sunday evening were Elders Clifford A. Dahl and Wm. Anderson who gave very interesting discourses. A vocal solo by Monte Scoville, and a piano duett by Mesdames Emma Dahl and Maybelle Anderson, with the fine singing by the choir made a very enjoyable program. There was a large crowd in attendance.

Henry Ehler was busy the last of the week putting down a cement floor in the garage of Dr. Madill and also raising the garage a little higher on a foundation. A cement driveway is also to be laid from the garage out to the street. This will be a nice improvement for the Doctor.

The business of Jos. Kovrig, which he has operated successfully for a number of years, was sold this week to Jos. Lenday of Lethbridge and formerly of Saskatchewan. The new owner expects to take possession Nov. 15th, and in the meantime some improvements are to be made in the rear of the building to provide living quarters.

Car owners have been taking advantage of the good weather to get ready for winter. Anti-freeze, frost shields, heaters, and so on have been receiving attention. We never know in this country what King Winter will dish up, and we just have to be prepared.

Vern, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Peterson of Welling, was rushed to the Lethbridge Hospital Saturday evening with an attack of acute appendicitis. He was kept there several days under observation and for treatment before the operation was performed.

Speakers in the Raymond First Ward Sunday evening were Mrs. I. B. Roberts and Elder Jas. H. Walker, former Bishop of Raymond 2nd Ward. A fine musical program added to the interest of the meeting. Stephen Wood and Lloyd Reithman also spoke briefly.

Nora: I think Jack must have a lot of untidy officers in his regiment.

Corra: What makes you think so?
Nora: Well, he often writes and tells me that he had to clean up the officers' mess again.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. STRANGE

Director, Research Department,
Searle Grain Co., Limited

The annual average export of Canadian wheat overseas for the five years immediately preceding the outbreak of this war, was equivalent to 175 million bushels of wheat. During the two years of this war the exports have averaged 217 million bushels a year, and for the two months of August and September of this crop year, exports have been running at about the same high rate.

It will be observed from this, that while the war has cut off many markets for Canadian wheat, yet the amount of wheat which has left Canadian shores for export has actually increased substantially since the war started as compared with similar annual exports for the five years immediately prior to this war.

It is apparent, therefore, that it is not the war that is responsible for the present wheat surplus. The truth is that our wheat surplus was built up by the high tariff policies adopted during the past 20 years by the United States, Canada and other countries. These high tariffs made it impossible for foreign people to sell in Canada enough of their goods to bring them in sufficient Canadian dollars with which to purchase those quantities of Canadian wheat which they badly needed. Canada, apparently, forgot the ancient adage "If you don't buy you can't sell."

Following factors have tended to raise price: The Russian Ukraine and adjacent Crimea have been largely occupied by Nazi forces.—The U. S. Government is considering legislation designed to increase Lease-lend aid.—The wheat and potato crops in Egypt are below normal.—Heavy frosts in Argentina have destroyed about 15 p.c. of the new wheat crop.

Following factors have tended to lower price:—The possibility of selling U.S. Government owned wheat to check rising prices has unsettled markets.—European weather continues favorable for fall plowing and most countries plan increased acreage.—World production of wheat in 1941 is estimated at 5,172 million bushels, or slightly above 1940.

LUNCH AT NOON

Boys we've known since babies

● We see them board the train after their last leave home . . . boys we've known since they were babies. We say "Good Luck . . . we're all pulling for you", as we bid them Good Bye. But are we? Are we "pulling" . . . all we can? What are we doing to help them? Are we giving them the things they need so badly . . . ships and tonks and guns and planes and ammunition? Are we giving them all they need? That's one thing we can do . . . we who stay at home . . . one thing we must do. We must provide the money so much needed to win the war . . . and one way to do that is to buy more War Savings Certificates.

The help of every Canadian is needed for Victory. In these days of war the thoughtless, selfish spender is a traitor to our war effort. A reduction in personal spending is now a vital necessity to relieve the pressure for goods, to enable more and more labour and materials to be diverted to winning the war. The all-out effort, which Canada must make, demands this self-denial of each of us.

MEN OF BRITAIN'S FLEET AIR ARM

In each succeeding naval action of the war, the importance of the Fleet Air Arm of Britain's Royal Navy becomes more apparent.

These fearless pilots on their sea-going airfields had an important part in the sinking of the German battle-ship "Bismarck."

Fleet Air Arm Pilots are seen here on the flightdeck of a famous British aircraft carrier.

Personal Christmas, New Year's or other greeting cards should not be forwarded to tobacco companies, or be handed to the local agents of tobacco companies, by persons ordering parcels of cigarettes, tobacco or cigars to be sent to members of the Armed Forces Overseas, with the request that the greeting card be enclosed in the parcel.

A card bearing the name and address of the sender is now placed by the tobacco company in each parcel made up on order so that the recipient may send

PARCELS CONTAINING PERISHABLE ARTICLES NOT TO BE ACCEPTED

The attention of Postmasters and Assistants is drawn again to the fact that parcels containing perishable fruit, glass bottles of jam, matches and cigarette-lighter fluid are still being mailed by persons throughout Canada, addressed to members of our Overseas Forces.

Despite repeated efforts to caution the public against mailing such items which may spoil in transit, and damage the other contents of the package as well as parcels in the same mail bag, the practice is still being continued as the following communication from a military Post Office to postal authorities at Ottawa, reveals. The letter states:—

"In the past three or four days, we have received at this office five parcels, containing fresh fruits—pears, plums, tomatoes, etc., in such damaged condition that we were obliged, in some cases to destroy the parcels completely, while in one case we salvaged and repacked the parcel, for transmission overseas."

Postmasters are requested to lose no opportunity of bringing to the notice of persons mailing parcels for overseas troops that the inclusion of perishable or inflammable items renders such a package unacceptable for transmission by the Post Office. If it is found when a parcel is presented for mailing, that it contains items of such a nature, the mailer should be informed why his parcel is not acceptable.

an acknowledgement to the sender, but it is not permissible under the conditions governing these special parcels to include personal Christmas or similar greeting cards therein.

Christmas, New Year's or other greeting cards should be mailed separately.

ANNUAL MEETING—
ALBERTA BOARD OF TRADE

The annual general meeting of the Alberta Board of Trade and Agriculture is to be held in the Buffalo Hotel, Red Deer, on Monday, November 27th according to a decision of the Directors who recently met in Edmonton. The Convention is exciting keen interest in business and agricultural circles throughout the Province and indications are that over 20 boards of trade will have delegates present.

Prominent on the Agenda are resolutions dealing with the National Housing Act, legislation presently being advocated by the Retail Merchants Association, the War Effort, Discriminating features of the Gas and Electric Sales Tax, The Alberta Coal industry, the Coutts-Lethbridge highway, the Minimum Wheat price, war financing, and other timely topics. Report of the delegation that visited Ottawa relative to location of the Jasper Highway will be submitted. The proceedings include A. Craig Pierce, Calgary; L. Y. Cairns, K. C. Parsons, Nanton; John Blue, Edmonton; F. C. Moyer, Drumheller and R. J. Dinning of Edmonton. Jas. B. Holden, Vegreville, President of the Alberta Board will occupy the Chair.

The Alberta Board of Trade and Agriculture, being non-political, fills a unique role in the affairs of the Province in that it brings together annually business community leaders of all sections of the Province and thus crystallizes and gives expression to public opinion as no other organization is equipped to do.
